WAR'S FOLLY HALTED BY CONFERENCE

RED CROSS ROLL CALL WILL OPEN TOMORROW AT 9

Soldiers and Dependents
Need Office in City,
Blake Declares.

USE FUNDS AT HOME

All Donations and Much of Membership Money To Stay in County.

Keep as much money as possible at home for relief in Ada and Pontotoc county will be the fundamental policy of more than half a hundred workers when they start out at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for the purpose of raising at least $2,000 in the belated annual Red Cross roll call.

Memberships are $1 each and half of this remains at home. All the money received as donations stays in the county. Families may combine their membership and thus effect a saving to the county Red Cross according to the rule which requires that only 50 cents from each membership, regardless of size, shall be paid into the national organization.

"Remember that soldiers and their dependents are in need, not only of a little cash, but they need still more that our local office be kept open and ready to write letters, make out applications, secure affidavits, re-examinations, transportation to hospitals and a hundred other services to the disabled veterans and their dependents," T. B. Blake, county chairman of the roll call, said today in a letter to workers.

Is Paying Investment.
"The maintenance of our office with Mrs. Snead in charge has brought more money to town in the way of insurance payments, compensation, etc., than the people of Pontotoc county contributed during the entire period of the war," Mr. Blake continued.

Explaining the requirement that a small part of each membership goes to the national Red Cross, Mr. Blake said today that without the organization kept its work national in scope, it would be impossible for the former service men in any part of the country to get justice in the way of compensation for poor health and injuries resulting from the war. Every person in the city will be given a chance to contribute. Never has the burden of soldier claims been heavier on the local office than now, members of the executive board said today, declaring it was imperative that the work go forward.

ADA TEAM LOSER IN SECOND GAME OF DUAL SERIES

DURANT, Okla., Feb. 6.—(Special.)—It was a hard game for the East Central basketball team to lose here Saturday night to the Southeastern teachers. The visitors had the advantage in team work, passing and intercepting, but for some reason could not make the ball go through the circle. Dozens of good chances were lost and the visitors were trampled by a score of 26 to 16.

Thompson's men put up a good fight all though the game, which was rough, but on account of many personal fouls, could not get enough team work to count. In the last half 11 personal fouls were called on the visitors. This was the second game the East Central team lost while here, the first being played Friday night and lost by the Adams 23 to 17.

DARING THEFTS REPORTED OVER COUNTY LATELY

Robbers Take Big Amount of Clothing and Silks
From Allen Store.

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN

Officers Recover Horse and Saddle and Hold Blacks in County Jail.

Pontotoc county floundered through a week-end nightmare of robberies and awoke this morning to find itself about $2000 poorer as a result of a series of daring thefts, here, at Allen, and near Stonewall. Records today at the office of Sheriff Bob Duncan showed five thefts and robberies, beginning Saturday afternoon and extending until last night. All of this time members of the sheriff's force were busy. They succeeded in returning part of the property and were this afternoon searching for clues that will throw some light on the others.

Johnson's dry goods store at Allen was burglarized Saturday night and 18 suits of clothes, 36 pieces of silk and a number of silk shirts and other garments taken. City and county officers were on the ground yesterday attempting to trace some tracks left by the looters but no arrests had been made up to noon today. Loss of goods from the store was estimated at something over $1,000.

The Farmers Union store here was robbed last night and a quantity of groceries removed. Burglars effected an entrance by breaking a back window. No definite estimate of the loss could be made.

Saturday night a Ford car belonging to Claude Pitt was stolen from his parking place back of the barber shop on East Main street. A woman pedestrian reported that she had seen a car come out the alley leading east into Rennie avenue Saturday night at a high rate of speed and proceed into the alley leading on to Constant avenue. This was the only suggestion today that threw any light on the car's disappearance.

A horse and saddle belonging to a son of Marvin Phillips, of six miles south of Ada, was stolen from a hitching rack here Saturday afternoon and the saddle sold to a local second hand store where it was later recovered by officers. The horse was found later hitched to a post in another part of the business district.

Three negroes, J. Brown, J. F. Brown and Frank Richardson, were being held in the county jail today in connection with the disappearance Saturday afternoon of another horse and saddle from the Loman farm, a mile east of Stonewall. They made no statement concerning the alleged theft.

The blood of humans and man-apes is nearly identical.

Cardinal Ratti, Chosen As New Pope, Is Exponent of Liberal Principles

Cardinal Ratti.

ROME, Feb. 6.—Cardinal Achille Ratti, Archbishop of Milan, was proclaimed elected pope to succeed the late Benedict XV this morning. He has taken the name Pius XI. Cardinal Ratti was for several years Papal Nuncio in Poland where his discharge of important ecclesiastical functions when the Polish question became acute earned for him the esteem of Benedict XV and the gratitude of Vatican authorities. It was because of this service that the red hat was conferred upon him on June 16, 1921, when a similar honor was bestowed on Cardinal Laurenti.

Cardinal Ratti was born in Italy on Oct. 12, 1858. For many years he was librarian of the Ambrosian Library and archivist at Milan. Later he became librarian of the Vatican. In this position he remained until the new republic of Poland established official diplomatic relations with the Vatican at which time Ratti was appointed archbishop and assigned to Poland as the representative of the Holy See.

That country was then torn with the estrangements from religion brought about by the Communistic propaganda from Soviet Russia and Archbishop Ratti counteracted the spread of radicalism. He also won the esteem of Polish Catholics by his efforts in behalf of destitute children orphaned by the war.

Cardinal Ratti as the Archbishop of Milan presides over one of the most important archdioceses in Italy. The city being a great industrial center, one of its main requirements is that the Cardinal shall possess a thorough knowledge of political and social problems. He is big physically and is reputed to have liberal tendencies. Cardinal Ratti is one of the most recently created princes of the church.

O'Connell Arrives Late
ROME, Feb. 6.—Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop arrived in Rome at 12:40 o'clock this afternoon, an hour after the new pope had been elected.

Smoke Tells Story.
The thousands waiting outside in front of St. Peter's for the wisp of smoke which would tell of the election of a new pope or the failure of the Sacred College to reach a decision gave a mighty shout at 11:33 o'clock when a thin wisp of smoke came from the chimney leading from the Sistine chapel. It was known that the Catholic church has once more duly elected a pontiff.

As soon as the two-thirds vote for Cardinal Ratti had been verified, Cardinal Vanuttelli, as dean of the Sacred College, arose and proceeded to the throne of the chosen one, accompanied on either side by Cardinals Logue and Bislotti, respectively deans of the cardinal priests and the cardinal deacons. He was asked in Latin by Cardinal Vanuttelli, in accordance with the custom, if he accepted the election to be Supreme Pontiff, and the new pope replied with the formal "since it is the will of God, I must obey."

Cardinals Honor Him.
Then the papal canopies over the thrones of the cardinals were let down one by one, until the one over the new pontiff remained. This was done to show that the cardinals gave obedience to the new head of the church. Dean Vanuttelli thereupon asked the new pontiff what name he would take during his pontificate, and upon his reply "Pius XI," Monsignor Sincero, secretary of the conclave, verified his election to the papal chair.

The new pope then was escorted to the ante-room within the Sistine chapel, where he discarded his cardinal robes assisted by the conclavists and the papal vestments were placed upon him.

The pontiff fully dressed with the papal garb, and accompanied by his cardinals, thereupon returned to the throne he had occupied in the Sistine chapel.

6 TREATIES ARE DRAFTED DURING A R M S SESSIONS

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Six complete treaties, two others agreed to in substance, 14 resolutions and ten separate or joint declarations of national policy, comprised the formal and final contribution of the arms conference negotiations to history.

By major agreements of the conference, the great powers put a limit on their naval strength in capital ships, eliminated submarine warfare against commerce, stopped the use of poison gas, gave China a new bill of rights on territorial integrity and the open door and sent up a new international concord to preserve peace in the Pacific. In addition Great Britain declared her intention of restoring Wei-Hai-Wei to China and Japan announced her intention of withdrawing her troops from Siberia as soon as conditions there are stabilized.

QUARANTINE TO BE OVER SOON; HEALTH BETTER

The good health of Pontotoc county and Ada cannot be doubted, according to the opinion of leading doctors here. Reports from the county health officer are that little trouble has been encountered from smallpox and that only about five cases are known to be in the county, all of which are light ones and not expected to spread.

It was intimated that the quarantine against Seminole, Pottawatomie and Murray counties will be lifted about the latter part of this week if conditions in those places continue to improve. Co-operation of citizens with the doctors has done much to prevent an epidemic.

Reports being circulated that several cases of flu were in the county are without grounds, the county health officer said. Only a few light cases could be found, which was more of a severe cold than flu. Other diseases are few in the county and the general condition is better than it has been since 1918. Most of the present ailments are due to bad colds, it is said.

HEALTH SURVEY FOR SCHOOLS TO BE OPENED SOON

Trained Nurse To Inspect
Each Child and Report
On Condition.

WILL START IN CITY

$200 To Be Expended In An Effort To Improve
Pontotoc Kiddies.

Half of the proceeds of about $400 in health stamps sold in Pontotoc county last Christmas under the chairmanship of Mrs. Mabel Brown will be returned to the county for use in conducting a health survey among school children, according to an announcement today from City Superintendent J. E. Hickman.

About $200 will be expended on the health survey, according to Mr. Hickman. Work will start next Monday morning in the city schools and will be conducted by a trained nurse from Oklahoma City whose name has not yet been learned here. Her work will be continued in the county as long as the $200 fund lasts, according to plans. The medical inspection of each child will be complete, it is specified by the state health department under whose general supervision the work will be carried out, and a definite report of each case will be made by the nurse.

To Other Towns.
When the work of inspecting Ada school children is completed, the demonstration will be started in other towns of the county, particularly those who assisted in the Christmas seal drive. Stonewall and Francis gave material co-operation in this work, it is understood.

Seventeen members, representing every town of the county, have been appointed on the Pontotoc county committee to assist in the survey. J. E. Hickman is chairman. Other members are Mrs. Orville Snead, Dr. S. P. Ross, Mayor Gary Kitchen, R. W. Simpson, John Smith, M. F. Manville, Robert Wimbley, Francis, Mrs. Z. K. McKoy, Stonewall; Mrs. John E. Lee, Allen; Mrs. Clay Jones, Roff; Mrs. R. U. Small, Vanoss, and Mrs. Mabel Brown, chairman of the Ada board of Education.

This will be the most thorough and comprehensive survey of its kind ever conducted in the city or county and is expected to bring long step in the rectifying of health conditions in the schools from the standpoint of individual pupils.

BIBLE CLASS VOTES TWO MEMBERSHIPS IN C. OF C.

The Business Men's Bible Class of the First Christian church yesterday voted two memberships in the Ada Chamber of Commerce as an evidence of that body's appreciation to the Chamber for the use of the rooms each Sunday.

The class is taught by Dr. A. Linscheid of the Teachers College and has grown to be one of the largest classes among Sunday schools of the city. The two memberships will be paid for out of the treasury of the class.

ARMS PARLEY IS ADJOURNED AMID STORM OF CHEER

Vast Audience Sends Forth
Rounds of Applause As Pacts Are Signed.

HARDING LAUDS WORK

"You Have Written First Indictment of War,"
Says President.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The history making conference on limitation of armaments and far eastern questions came to its end today with the signing of treaties and a farewell address by President Harding. The final adjournment was taken at 11:13 o'clock.

With its work characterized by Mr. Harding as "the first deliberate and effective expression of great power, in the consciousness of peace, of war's utter futility," the conference went to its niche of history to await the judgment and development of the future.

In the great assembly hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution where all the open sessions have been held, the delegates of the nine nations assembled marched in turn to the base of the great green base table and affixed their signatures to the treaties and agreements which are all parts of the structure built to lift from a war-torn world the burden of excessive naval armaments, to provide the peace of the Pacific, to give a new bill of rights to China and to remove from the far east, particularly, the clouds of war.

Audience Cheers Signing
And as delegates affixed their signatures as plenipotentiaries pledging the honor of their respective nations to the good faith of the settlements agreed upon, the great audience expressed the hopes of the world in its loud and prolonged applause.

At the conclusion of the ceremony of signing, President Harding delivered his address formally closing the conference as he formerly had opened it a little more than twelve weeks ago.

The president as he read slowly from his manuscript, frequently was halted by waves of applause. He finished speaking at 11:00 o'clock and then delegates and spectators bowed their heads as a benediction was pronounced.

There was long applause when President Harding digressed to say: "While the settlement of the far eastern questions was not of direct import to the United States, we rejoice in common with the world that an understanding has been reached. 'This conference has wrought a truly great achievement,' said President Harding, in his address. 'It is hazardous sometimes to speak in superlatives, and I will be restrained. But I will say, with every confidence that the faith pledged here today, kept in national honor, will mark the beginning of a new and better effort in human progress.'

9 Nations Fight War.
"Stripped to the simple fact, which is the special act that has inspired a new hope for the world—gathered about this table, nine great nations of the earth—not all to be sure, but those mostly directly concerned with the problems at hand—have met and conferred on questions of great import and common concern, on problems menacing their peaceful relations, on burdens threatening common peril. In the revealing light of public opinion of the world, without consideration of sovereignty, without impropriety of nations, without offense to pride, a solution has been found in unanimity and today adjournment is marked by rejoicing over the things accomplished. If the world has hungered for new assurance it may feast at the banquet which the conference has spread.

"I am sure the people of the United States are supremely gratified and yet there is scant appreciation of what marvels you have wrought. And you have agreed, in spite of all difficulties, and the agreements are proclaimed to the world. No new standards of national honor have been sought, but the indictment of national dishonor has been drawn. The world is ready to proclaim the odiousness and perfidity of infamy."

"It little matters what we praise as the outstanding accomplishment. Any one of them alone would have justified the conference. But the whole achievement has so cleared the atmosphere that it will seem

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

WAY TO LIFE:—He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?—Micah 6:8.

It looks very much like the administration will sidestep the soldier bonus. While it has been understood that the measure will be enacted, Secretary Mellon has come forward with various suggestions for raising the necessary money, suggestions that he well knows will create a storm of protest. In fact, anything calling for more taxes will be fought by the interests affected by the taxes. About the only resource left is the interest on the foreign debt, as was proposed by Tom D. McKeown two years ago. Mellon at first appeared to favor that plan, but has been openly against any sort of bonus and when it was in a fair way of being adopted shifted to his present strategy to make the bonus unpopular by offering suggestions that he knew will raise a row. The prospect of the boys who left everything and went to the front does not appear any too bright just now, even though the pittance each would receive would not go very far.

A great deal is being said about the non-enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment, but no one hears anything said about bringing back the saloon. The saloon wrote its own death sentence and that of the legalized liquor traffic by its refusal to submit to laws enacted to curb its worst features and by its insistence on meddling with politics. In most large cities the real source of power was located in the saloons and the laws were enforced in a manner agreeable to the saloon element. It also wielded a tremendous power in state and national politics. Of course the removal of the saloon did not eliminate all rottenness, but it helped and in time other evils in government will be corrected. Whatever is being urged against the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act, no one has the hardihood to suggest that the old saloon system be restored. The country has troubles enough without having to battle against saloon rule.

The Holdenville Democrat comes out in vigorous terms against mixing schools and politics. The Democrat insists on a complete separation and is entirely right about it. How a school man votes is the business of on one except himself. That he voted for some particular candidate is no reason he should be punished or rewarded, as the case may be. Luther Harrison, editor of the Democrat, is in a position to know whereof he speaks on this subject and we hope to see him and other leaders of the Democratic press create such a strong public sentiment on this subject that any politician attempting to use the state schools to further his candidacy will be summarily defeated at the next election. School positions must be held through merit alone and not through the influence of some politician who cares nothing for the cause of education but would use the schools as a means to advance his personal interests.

General Dawes, chief factotum of the budget committee, commission, bureau or whatever the proper term is, lambasts the critics of the budget in true Dawes style. They will probably subside now. It will be remembered that when a congressional committee two years ago was investigating the conduct of the war with a view of digging up something for campaign purposes, finally called the firey general before it. He gave the whole bunch a good cussing, telling them that the American went to France to win the war and not to keep a set of books. That brought the probe to an abrupt end, for there was no gainsaying the soundness of that logic. If Dawes can now cut the expenditures of the government to any appreciable extent we are for him.

Wilbur Voliva, head of the Dowieite religious sect of Zion, Illinois, has made some wonderful discoveries in natural science lately. Sometime ago he learned that the earth is flat and ordered that important fact taught in the schools of the city of which he is the undisputed boss. Now he tells the people that the sky is a solid piece of material and from it the sun, moon and stars are suspended like chandeliers. He explains that the vast dome of the sky rests on the wall of ice with which the earth is surrounded, otherwise ships would sail right off over the edge and fall to—goodness only knows where. Voliva says his Bible teaches this and that scientists are mostly humbugs anyway.

The railroads say they are too hard pressed for money to reduce rates and the public is unable to ship many commodities because the rate is higher than the traffic will bear. Consequently the volume of business done by the roads is considerably off and in many places farm products and other commodities are tied up with no market because the freight rates are too high to make shipping possible.

The old saw about one man's food being another man's poison holds in other matters, particularly with newspaper readers. What one man likes to read will send another fellow straight up in the air, or perhaps straight after the editor to tell him what a chump he is for running such fool ideas.

THERE ARE SOME THINGS EVEN MORE DEADLY AND INHUMAN THAN POISON GAS

The Forum of the Press

Not Hoodlums.
(Hugo Daily News)

Careful study of northern and eastern newspapers indicates a prevalent belief that southern democrats wear goatees and deliver daily toasts over mint julep to the Bonny blue flag with a single star at its top. This common impression has been intensified by the debate on the Dyer anti-lynching bill that passed the house Thursday night.

The southern colonel, the southern business man, who has always voted "her straight," to the northern man, as newspapers see it, considers a lynching-bee afternoon sport to break the dull routine of smoking Havana stogies and pulling meager drinks from a short flat bottle filled with mountain brew.

This attitude and belief, to the northern man and to the eastern news paper, explains general democratic opposition to the anti-lynching bill. Nothing could be more remote from the truth.

The anti-lynching bill is unconstitutional from the democratic point of view. It violates the old doctrine of self defense since 1789 that certain rights are reserved by the states, including the right to form their own police systems and prescribe rules of conduct for the citizens within their individual boundaries.

Above all this the Dyer anti-lynching bill really provides no remedy. A price of $10,000 is set on a lynching. The county in which it takes place pays the bill. Mobs not deterred by ideals of justice and supremacy of law will hardly halt at the idea of a $10,000 penalty on the county.

Awakened moral conscience backed by prompt state investigation of each case is the remedy. Oklahoma county has set an example under the spur of the attorney general's department. Put on the other spur Governor Robertson.

Charleston News and Courier: When Senator Borah is right he is almost always wrong, and when he is wrong he is almost always right. There is generally a certain amount of wrongness in his rightness. Take, for instance, what he said in the senate the other day about Lenin in urging the recognition of soviet Russia: "I make the assertion that his is one of the two or three great intellects produced by the world war." Lenin's is a great intellect in a sense, beyond any doubt, but it seems to be plain that there is something very serious the matter with it—that along with its greatness it has certain lamentable defects. If this were not true, Russia would hardly be where she is today—in the deepest and darkest part of the slough of despond, wretched, helpless, anguish-stricken, doomed to perish but for the help of her neighbors. As usual, Borah is both right and wrong. And as usual, he will receive the applause of liberals for recognizing a truth which most people either do not perceive or else have not the courage to proclaim, while by many of these liberals his error will be overlooked or ignored. That is why he is a hero to so many liberals today, although no man has done more than he to prevent the greatest victory that liberalism could win in this generation—the firm establishment under—American leadership of the league of nations.

National Differences.
(New York Times.)
One of the marked differences between Englishmen and Americans is the strange reluctance of the former and readiness of the latter to pay high taxes. Englishmen have been grumbling and fuming most indecently for years over the size of their tax bills. They refuse to be reconciled to paying some 33 1-3 per cent of their incomes in taxes. They howl for economy in government expenditures. For months by-elections have turned on the issue of "anti-waste." Sir Eric Geddes is at the head of a committee that has been going over government expenditures with an axe. Apparently, Englishmen really believe that a budget ought to balance and taxes ought to be reduced.

Americans look at these little matters in a different light. At least, Congress assumes that they do. Secretary Mellon tells Congress that expenditures must be decreased to the tune of $330,000,000 in the next two years, if deficits are to be avoided and the budget is to balance. Instead of trying to save $330,000,000, Congress is in hot haste to throw away $850,000,000 or more in the next two years by extraordinary expenditures. In a bribe for votes. Evidently, Congress holds that the American people love waste and hate on unnecessarily high taxes.

ANTLERS—Pushmataha county farmers are becoming interested in tomatoes as a 1922 crop, says George Innes, county agent. Shipping districts are being organized and arrangements being made to handle a crop in a wholesale manner. Contracts have already been signed for 500,000 plants, to be produced at $1 a thousand, Innes added.

BOY SCOUTS TAKE OVER TULSA RULE FOR HOUR TODAY

TULSA, Feb. 4.—A complete set of city officials, elected by the Boy Scouts of Tulsa from among their members, was ready to assume control today of the government of the city. The scouts, headed by Ralph Obermiller, "mayor-elect," are to take the places of the regular city officials for one hour for what is described here as the most interesting course of intensive instruction in municipal government ever offered the boys of any American city.

Obermiller and the other scouts who are to make up the temporary municipal government were named at an election January 27. Primaries had been held by the two scout troops of the city, the Eagles and the Buffaloes, January 20, and the general election came as the climax to one of the hottest municipal campaigns the city has seen in recent years.

Following his election, Obermiller selected all the appointive officials of the city down to the most humble, and when the reins were put in his hands at 10 a. m. today he expected to carry on the orderly routine of the city's business without interruption.

Out After Speeders.
Speeders are to be arrested and other enforcement of the law is to be carried on as usual, according to police commissioners-elect Clifford Hicock and Fred McKenzie.

The officers who were elected by the scouts have been studying city ordinances and otherwise familiarizing themselves with the operation of the city's affairs. The regular city officials have endorsed the plan and promised to abdicate completely while the boys are in power.

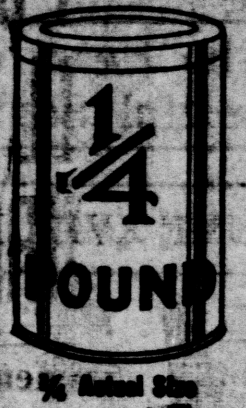

"Mayor-elect" Obermiller has issued no formal statement as to his plans while in office, but it is understood that the boys have several orders they propose to issue during their brief tenure in office. Dozens of suggestions have been made both by scouts and adult citizens of the city. Obermiller has indicated that one order will be to notify all citizens who have grievances to come to the city hall for a hearing after which their cases will be taken under advisement.

Some of the city officials have indicated that several difficult problems will be thrown in the boys' way as a means of trying them out.

This Is The Loss To You

Don't Be Deceived By Size

Many housewives are now buying baking powder under false impressions—they think they are getting 16 oz. or a full pound when they are really only getting 12 oz.—3/4 of a pound.

In order to keep the price down to compete with other brands, some manufacturers have reduced the contents of their large cans. If you don't look at the label—don't know exactly what you are getting when you buy these brands, you are apt to be 4 oz. or 1/4 of a pound short.

To get 16 oz.—a full pound, when you want it, buy Calumet. It costs less—you use less. It is made in the world's largest Baking Powder factories.

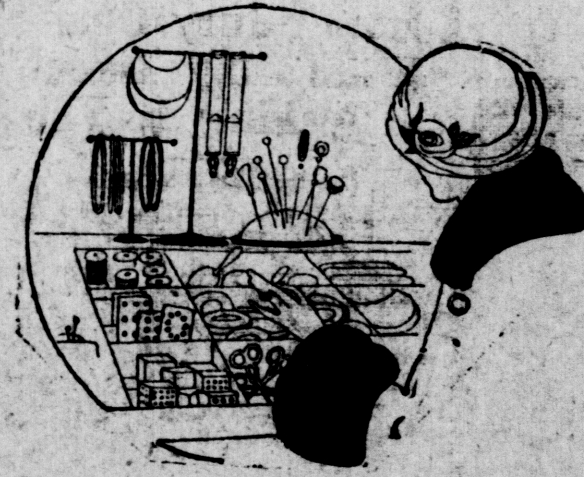

Keep Calumet in mind—it is the money saving kind.

Dallas Resident Had Been

Dyspepsia and Other

Splendid; Looks Ten Years Younger.

"When my wife began taking Tanlac she had been living on liquid food for a long time, but now she eats anything she wants and everything seems to agree with her," said J. G. Randall, 2408 Cedar Springs, Dallas, Texas.

"I don't believe she knew a well day for three years and I was very much worried about her as I could just see that she was dwindling down in weight and losing strength every day. She complained a good deal, too, of her heart fluttering and we thought she had heart trouble of a serious character, but we knew now that it was entirely from her stomach."

"Tanalac was exactly what she needed. She says she feels fine now and certainly she looks better and younger by ten years."

Tanalac is sold by M. A. Waits and all leading druggists. (Adv)

MINISTER'S WIFE WANTS TO HELP

Hopes Others Will Profit
By Her Experience.

"I wish every sufferer could know what Puratone has done for me." This enthusiastic statement was made by Mrs. Leona Hays, who lives on north Broadway, just outside the limits of Ada, Okla. Mrs. Hays is the wife of Rev. Oscar L. Hays, a minister in the Church of Christ for the past twenty years.

Mrs. Hays continued: "For five years, everything I ate disagreed with me. As soon as food reached my stomach it seemed to form a solid lump, ferment, and form gas. I would bloat and frequently belch and spit up solid lumps of food. I was terribly short of breath, and so nervous that a sudden noise would almost drive me crazy. Sharp pains in my back and limbs kept me in misery. My kidneys were weak, I could not sleep at night, I was losing weight steadily and finally became so weak and run down that I could scarcely perform my household tasks. Doctors and medicines failed to relieve me, and I had just about given up hope of ever being well again."

"A friend persuaded me to try Puratone, and—well, it has done wonders for me. I have taken only two bottles, but can already eat almost anything without any digestive disturbances. I sleep soundly, my pains are fast disappearing, my nerves are stronger, and I feel better than I have in years. I intend to keep taking Puratone until I am well. It is the greatest medicine I ever heard of. I wish every sufferer could know about it."

Puratone is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Store; Allen, Gwin & Saffarans; Steedman, John Edwards; Stonewall, C. L. Burnett; and leading druggists everywhere. (Adv)

MRS. OBENCHAIN ON TRIAL TODAY

chain, a young Chicago attorney who had just returned from overseas army service. A month later, however, she renewed the correspondence with Kennedy. After about a year she obtained a divorce in Chicago and wrote to Kennedy she wanted him to go to Chicago to marry her. Kennedy did not go and the subsequent correspondence indicated his parents were opposed to the match.

Mrs. Obenchain started west last June and wrote Kennedy to meet her in San Francisco. He was not there when she arrived, and she came to Los Angeles. There were several interviews, according to testimony in the Burch case, and Mrs. Obenchain on one occasion took Kennedy to a fortune teller for advice as to whether they would wed. About the same time, another witness declared, she said "Belton has not long to live. I can almost put my hand on the spot where it will happen."

She "Needed" Burch
On July 17, Mrs. Obenchain wired to Burch, who was in Evanston to come to Los Angeles, adding "I need you and the friend I had last summer." Burch arrived here on July 24 bringing with him, according to the porter of his car, a shot gun case. Burch took a room in a hotel commanding a view of Kennedy's office and watched the office windows for long periods, according to hotel employees. At other times he rented an automobile under an assumed name, and took extended trips, it was also testified.

Mrs. Obenchain and Kennedy when driving the night of August 5 and about nine o'clock went to a small cottage owned by Kennedy in Beverly Glen, fifteen miles from Los Angeles. As Kennedy was mounting a flight of steps on a bank in front of the cottage two shotgun shots were fired. One struck Kennedy in the back of the neck, causing instant death, an autopsy surgeon swore.

Mrs. Obenchain told officers she saw two rough looking men disappear in bushes from which the shots were fired, and that Kennedy, after he was shot exclaimed "good night, Madalynne." A woman living near the Kennedy place, testified, however, she heard a man say "I've got him" after the second shot and then a man's and a woman's voice mingling in conversation she could not distinguish.

Drove Rented Car
Burch, it developed, was out in a rented car that night, and two persons swore they saw him in Beverly Glen. He left Los Angeles the next morning for Chicago, but was arrested at Las Vegas, Nevada, and brought back to Los Angeles. He refused to discuss the case, and his attorneys besides denying he had anything to do with the tragedy, made a defense of insanity. One of the two jurors who stood out for acquittal declared she believed Burch was insane, the other that the prosecution had not convinced her Burch was in Beverly Glen at the time of the shooting.

Mrs. Obenchain's former husband was retained by her as one of her attorneys, and they secured a marriage license some time ago and announced they would be remarried if Mrs. Obenchain is released.

The prosecution contended that Burch, who was divorced last year by Mrs. Allie Quayle Burch, daughter of Bishop Matthew Burch, of St. Louis, Mo., was in love with Mrs. Obenchain and subject to her will in the alleged conspiracy.

HILL WITHDRAWS IN MAYORAL CAMPAIGN

On account of business circumstances, Sherwood Hill, who announced his candidacy for mayor a few days ago, is withdrawing from the race. This leaves only four in the race, Mayor Gary Kitchens, W. H. Fisher, W. T. Melton and U. G. Winn. Mr. Hill's statement this morning follows:

"To the Citizens of Ada: Reluctantly I withdraw from the race for mayor; circumstances have arisen since my announcement regarding my cotton business that will make it impossible for me to make the race. I wish to thank the people of Ada who so warmly were giving me their support, and especially do I thank the good ladies who gave me many kind words of encouragement."

"I expect to remain in Ada and will ever be loyal to my friends."

"Sincerely,
"SHERWOOD HILL."

Of earthen wood, and burns it with the haze

Of vain desire, and, born of revel's daze,

Beauteous things, fantastic things once sought.

Would you not for me this favor small?

Open it wide enough that I can see,

Alone, this maddening caradizen;

Your light, filtering thro its crevices all,

As chrysalis cries find fathoms of sea.

May find the heart of a beast or the heart of a wren.

CITY LEAGUE TO RESUME TONIGHT

Two Weeks of Idleness Has Put Keen Edge on Men; Schedule Near End.

O boy, more real basketball to night.

This was the announcement today by Ralph Waner, president of the city basketball league, and the teams after two weeks of idleness will again be in the fight. Battery F will be one of the squads playing tonight. This is the first appearance of the team in several weeks.

The Teachers College is mixing with the Cement Plant and the High school and Battery F are scheduled to play. The two latter are not expected to be in their usual form on account of the vaccination order. The high school squad has not yet fully recovered from effects of the sore arms, Sam Wilenzick, manager of the Battery team, reports that although one or two of his men have been suffering from sore arms they are sufficiently recovered to stage a good fight.

The Teachers College is probably in the best shape of any team. The College-Cement game will be a case of the tail-ender playing the leader. The Teachers are leading in the league standing and the Cement Plant is holding last place. Results of the high school-battery game can also make a radical change for second and a probable change for a tie for first. Should that squad lose to the high school, the Ada News team then would stand a chance of beating them out for second. The high school is also clinging to a well-earned place about fourth down and should they lose this game, it would be hard for them to get any higher up than fourth.

The games will be played in the college gym. E. C. Wilson will referee. This will be the first games here since the smallpox orders were issued from the office of the city health officer. Games will be called at 7:30.

German Merchants Duped Into Buying Confederate Money

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—Another issue of United States Confederate money, in $10 bills, has been put on the market in Germany, and several prominent merchants have been victimized to the extent of thousands of dollars. Scores of others have accepted the bad bills in smaller amounts.

A few months ago the Confederate money, suspiciously bright and clean, was passed quietly around to unsuspecting shopkeepers and to even a few visiting Americans who displayed carelessness in making change. At that time a warning was issued by the banks and the newspapers advising readers to use discretion.

The latest known victim is a merchant who sold a bill of goods for $900 in cash and accepted the Confederate currency. He appealed to the American Association of Commerce and Trade in Berlin.

The Association, as a result of these raids on German marks and German goods by the Confederate money vendors, has issued a warning to its clientele, declaring "the only way to avoid such losses is to affect all payments for goods thru a bank, especially where foreign currency comes into question."

German merchants recently also have been accepting counterfeit German 50-mark notes many of which are still in circulation although the police succeeded in capturing the counterfeiters.

THREE MOUNTAINEERS ARE CAUGHT IN SNOW STORM

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 4.—Three Swiss mountaineers engaged in an effort to climb Mt. Rainier have been caught in a raging snowstorm at an elevation of 4,000 feet, according to word from Rainier National Park, and have sought shelter in a ranger's cabin. Three others in the party, however, were unaccounted for last night, though no fear was expressed for their safety.

COMANCHE, Okla.—A temporary organization of a woman's auxiliary to the American Legion was recently completed here with thirteen charter members.

League Tennis and Baseball to Give Ample Recreation for All Ada Clubs

A detailed statement as to purposes and proposed activities of the Ada Athletic association has been submitted by Ralph Waner, president of the Ada basketball league. It follows:

Baseball Section. "Baseball activities will start with the teachers College and high school teams. Both have and are working out schedules for this season. There will be about six weeks in which the two institutions will be able to have teams in the field and practically all operations of the league will be turned to the two teams, assisting in every way possible to guarantee the success of their undertakings.

"The association will have as an object to help the institution in encouraging good clean athletes to come here to school. This is being done on the theory that good athletes encourage others less prominent in this line to enter the leading schools. It will help provide jobs for boys and girls who want to attend school and are not able. It will encourage athletes who are also financially able to attend, which adds to the strength and prestige of any school.

"It will lend much time and effort to teaching and encouraging students to honor, love and respect their school, to see their duty in playing a game, to bring honors to the school, and to boost the institution which they attend.

Ward Schools Considered. "The association will set aside time to give attention to ward schools. A schedule will be worked out that will permit the schools to get a fair deal and to give the students the proper idea in playing baseball. The league president will have as one of his duties the teaching of the younger pupils of ward schools the finer points of the game, to show them the proper attitude of a sportsman. He will also provide a prize to the winning ward school.

"A twilight league is to be organized under the direction of the association. It will consist of two sections—junior and senior. The junior section will be a league formed among the younger boys of the city. Sunday school classes, boy scouts and other organizations will be allowed to enter teams. Proper supervision will be lent to eliminate the usual petty differences between boys who are not coached in baseball.

"The senior league will be formed among the commercial bodies, schools, and other organizations of the city. A schedule will be worked out for them. The American Legion, fire department, cement plant, national guardsmen, bankers, clerks, business college and others will be open to a berth in the league.

Tennis. "The association plans to form a tennis schedule that will enable every person in the city to take part. Proper management will be provided and other matters will be looked after by the association.

"The city will be divided into sections, each section organized to give all an opportunity to play. There are at present three courts in the city which will allow about 50 persons to play at one time. It is expected that other courts can be built if needed.

"Each section will have an official schedule. The association will provide rules for the eligibility of players.

"Winners from each section will meet in a final tournament to decide the champions of the city, to whom will be presented prizes.

"The association will take upon itself the task of providing intercity contests, which will be an added feature for tennis aspirants."

St. Paul fans are awaiting the coming season with added interest as a result of the acquisition a short time ago of Wallie Christiansen, erstwhile Yankee.

With any other club but a championship one Christiansen might have remained in the big show this year, so good is he. But the pennant-potting Yankees failed to figure out a place for him.

Christiansen joined the New York club last spring at Shreveport, Pa., and his form there and in the early season practice sessions stamped him a comer. He got a chance in center field, but the coming of Miller hurt his chances of breaking in the lineup at all regularly.

Huggins sent the lad to Joplin with a string attached and Wallie's work there verified Huggins' confidence in him. He was recalled. He is a southpaw in throwing and hitting and handles himself well. He does need a trifle more experience, however, and ought to get it with the Saints.

VOTE OF WOMEN PURGES PARTIES

Equal Suffrage To Throw New Patriotic Light on Foul Tactics.

(By the Associated Press)

TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 4.—Through the participation of American women in affairs of government a new patriotism is arising which will build the temple of redeemed humanity and sentiment and ideals, Mrs. Manley L. Fossen, of Minneapolis, Minn., member of the Republican Executive Committee and regional director of the National Republican Federation, declared in an address here tonight at the annual dinner of the Kansas Day Club.

"Character is destiny," said Mr. Fossen. "Women, in the onward march of civilization, are going to mobilize the moral forces of the world and produce a new type of national character and civilization. Surely the world war has awakened a new spirit of humanity which means fraternity that will contribute to the enrichment of social and political life in all the world and bring about a word-wide benediction of understandings."

Mother Love Causes Interest. The interest which women of today are taking in government and politics, the speaker said, is born of mother love, the desire that the children of the earth may prosper.

"We are facing a new order of things and the women of America, realize that they are stockholders in this government," Mrs. Fossen said.

"Whether women are keen about participation in politics or not, we know that they are daily participating in politics, for politics walks into our kitchen, our nursery and our business in spite of us."

"No sooner did the first little bit of humanity come into our lives as mothers than we became actively concerned about the community, its environment, its sanitation and its education. From the interest and welfare of our community we followed the welfare of our children and concerned ourselves about the laws that govern their lives within the state, and finally we answered the call of the country's need to serve humanity we fought and died for our country. Now let us work and live for it."

Closing Great Era. "We are closing an era of great struggles and criticism," Mrs. Fossen continued, "yet we have never witnessed greater accomplishments or greater moral reform than during the past few years—that of suppress-

JEALOUSY MAKES MURDER PLAINER

Pink Night Gown in Rooms of Slain Director Has Now Disappeared.

(By the Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 6.—Mrs. Douglas MacLean, wife of the film actor, gave the first detailed statement of what she saw and the impressions she received the night William Desmond Taylor, film director, was slain. In the statement, made public last night, Mrs. MacLean also told how the screams of Henry Beavey, Taylor's negro servant, awakened other residents of the bungalow court to a knowledge of the murder the next morning.

Mrs. MacLean said she "simply could not describe" the man she had seen lurking about Taylor's apartment last Wednesday night.

"I should say he was five feet nine inches tall, perhaps," she said. "It seemed to me he had a prominent nose, but I may have received that impression from the shadow cast by the light."

"I hardly think this was the missing Butler, Edward F. Sands. It seemed to me he was not so heavy as Sands."

This mystery suspect was reported today to have checked out of a hotel here in the day of the killing and left the city the same afternoon. Investigators believed he had headed for San Diego and possibly had crossed the border into Mexico. His name is withheld by the police.

The actress to whom this man was at one time engaged, according to investigators, was a close friend of the slain director, and in this friendship, investigators say, they see a possible motive of jealousy.

Letters written by Mabel Normand to Taylor, reported missing following his death, and evidence contained in the presence for at least six months of a woman's silk pink night gown in the luxuriously appointed bachelor's apartment, today added considerable interest to the case.

Investigators were reluctant to discuss the woman's night gown and a bit of mystery is attached to it, for Henry Beavey, the director's house man, told of it having been in the house until the night of the killing. Where it is now is a police mystery. Reports are that it disappeared with the letters.

The president plans a western trip in the spring, members of the local committee say.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY TO END 100-YEARS' WORK

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—After more than 100 years of manufacturing Bibles, the American Bible Society today announced it would soon close down its plant in Ester Place. The high cost of production was given as the reason for the discontinuance of publication.

BASEBALL SKIES LOOMING BRIGHT

Michigan Loses Big Stars, But Has Good Material To Fill Ranks.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 6.—There may be no George Siskers or "Johnny" Lavans in this year's University of Michigan baseball squad, but indications are that Coach Ray Fisher will have a well balanced team. First call for practice in the cage at Waterman gymnasium will be issued Feb. 15.

Led by Captain "Ernie" Vick, All-American football center, the squad will be particularly strong in battery candidates. Vick is regarded as perhaps the best catcher in the conference. His work behind the bat last season stamped him as one of the best receivers that Michigan ever had. He will be aided in handling the pitchers by "Doug" Roby, full back on this year's football team, who was the general utility man on the baseball team last year. He also may be used in the outfield.

Last year's pitching staff remains intact—Dixon, Schultz and Liverance. Dixon is the best of the three, being possessed of good control. Schultz stands out for his coolness under fire. Liverance has the most stuff, but lacks experience. All three are right handers. Smith, a south paw who was ineligible last year and Mac Wood, from last year's freshman squad, will make the others work for a position.

In spite of the loss of Perrin, who goes south this spring with the Boston Red Sox, and Gensbach, the outfield probably will be strong. Fisher has two veterans in Roby and Ronan and will in all probability shift Schackelford back to right field where he started to play last year and was later shifted to first base. Myers, the best man on the all Fresh team, and Pearman, who has tried out before, will make a strong bid for a regular place in the outfield.

The squad appears to be weakest in the infield. The shoes of "Pete" VanBoven and "Joe" Karpus will be hard to fill. First base will be well taken care of by the veterans Schackelford and Johnson and Knode, the sensation of last season's yearlings. "Utz" Uteritz, quarterback on the football team and last year's second sacker, may be shifted to the short field. In this case Hoffman, a second string infielder last year, will play second. Klein who played the outfield last season will hold down third.

The team will make its usual swing through the South during spring vacation. The first game is scheduled with Kentucky for early in April.

OKLAHOMA CITY—Many wobbly ankles and a determination to try something novel greeted the first opportunity to skate in Oklahoma City recorded in the last even years. Three takes have been covered with skaters during the recent cold spell.

THE MERRY JOURNEYS OF MARY JANE

Mary Jane's Adventure with Grizzly George

ONE day Mary Jane went away out in the woods near her house. She was having a lovely time, picking wild strawberries in a clearing among the trees.

All of a sudden she heard someone in a deep, gruff voice say, "Woof! woof!" Mary Jane was awfully scared at first, but when she looked around, she saw it was only Grizzly George, the Bear.

George's full name was Pablo Vicidomini—but everybody called him George, for short.

George said, "Mary Jane, don't you know you shouldn't come away out in the woods and eat up all my personal, private strawberries? I was saving these berries for Mrs. George and our two children, Rutherford and Gwendolyn. Your mother can get you lots of strawberries at the grocer's."

Mary Jane told George she was sorry and would never do it again. Then

In The Oil Fields

L. E. Doan, president of the Doan Oil company, and Harry E. Morris, local oil operator, left today for Henryetta and Okmulgee to look over the oil fields of that county. The Doan company is drilling a deep test in the western part of the county, near the Galey school house. Mr. Morris is superintendent of the Montrose Oil company, in addition to handling his own business. One of the liveliest of the local oil men is John Fitz, who for years has been boosting the game in this county. He is still on the job, and when the big pool is finally located in this county, John Fitz will have had a part in locating it. He is said to have more direct information on the various wells which have been drilled in this county than any other individual. He is now working on getting other and more capital into the county to develop the territory he is convinced is the best in Oklahoma.

Preparations were being made today by the Canadian Petroleum Company to spud in with a standard outfit on the John Balthrop farm, in the southeast of the southeast of Section 16-4-6, acres from the Colbert school house. The contract, according to the best information possible, calls for a 2500 foot well. Operations are expected to start this week.

MONTE CARLO OF BIG DESERT SEEN IN "THE SHEIK"

Biskra is known as the Monte Carlo of the desert. It is the gathering place for the wealthy, the disolute, the adventurous, the pleasure seeking people of the African littoral and affords a marvellously picturesque background for fiction or photoplay.

It is used in George Melford's Paramount production of "The Sheik," which comes to the McSwain.

Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino are the featured players with a fine supporting cast. In a big casino, the most colorful spot in Biskra, the scene of a grand feast given by the young Sheik is laid and therein the beautiful customs of the Orient are shown with great fidelity.

Other scenes are those upon the Sahara, with the wild riders of the desert; the stronghold in the sandy sea of Omsir, a bandit of the Sahara, and the Sheik's Oriental dwelling.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair, after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. ARMS PARLEY IS ADJOURNED AMID like the breathing of the fresh air of a new morning of promise.

War's Futility Branded. "You have written the first deliberate and effective expression of great power, in the consciousness of peace, of war's utter futility, and challenged the sanity of competitive preparation for each other's destruction. You have halted folly and lightened burdens and revealed to the world that the one sure way to recover from the sorrow, ruin and staggering obligations of a world war is to end the strife in preparation for more of it, and turn human energies to the consciousness of peace.

"Not all the world is yet tranquilized. But here is the example to imbue with new hope all who dwell in apprehension. At this table came understanding, and understanding brands armed conflict as abominable in the eyes of enlightened civilization.

"I once believed in armed preparedness. I advocated it. But I have come now to believe there is a better preparedness in a public mind and a world opinion made ready to frame justice precisely as it exacts it. And justice is better served in conferences of peace than in conflict of arms."

As the president named the American delegates and thanked them for their services to the nation, there was applause at the mention of each name. There was more applause when the president thanked the advisory committee for its services.

At the conclusion of the president's address, the entire party stood and applauded while the executive took his seat. As the applause died away, the Rev. Waltham S. Abernathy, pastor of Mr. Harding's church, stepped forward and pronounced the benediction.

"May it be in the heart of every nation and every man," he beseeched, "to hasten the bringing of the era of good will."

The prayer ended, Secretary Hughes rapped with his gavel and announced: "The conference is adjourned sine die."

Farmers' Column
By Byron Norrell

I have often preached advertising to our readers, and have often practiced it with profit. For instance, in the last issue of the Weekly News my wife ran a three or four line want ad offering two roosters for sale. Both were sold Saturday and three or four other inquiries were phoned in. In this connection during the year I was on the farm I frequently ran a small ad in the Evening News telling of things I had for sale that the town folks would likely want and it was seldom indeed that I failed to land a customer or two.

A. E. Newton of Pecan Grove received three fine bronze turkey hens and a tom from which he expects to raise a flock this year. Mr. and Mrs. Newton are successful turkey raisers and expect to do better than ever this year.

J. F. Weldon says he has done well with white Holland turkeys the past year. He sold all he had for breeders and has had to turn down more than $100 worth of business offered since then. He will try to make a new record this year.

The pen-pusher of this column expects to be one of the first men in the county to eat fried chicken this spring. Mrs. Norrell's incubator hatched a brood last week and they promise good eating in the near future. In the meantime we have one more red rabbit to eat while waiting for the chickens to grow.

I have seen some suggestions to the effect that it is possible to use poison gas to kill weevil and pink boll worms. Perhaps that will be the ultimate solution of the problem. At all events the suggestion is worth considering and any experiments along this line will be watched with interest.

At the recent conference of county agents at Stillwater, J. B. Hill secured an order for 25 bushels of Silver Mine seed corn for Leonard and Coleman Morin, two of his club boys living south of Frisco. The corn was ordered by the banks of Pushmataha county for the club boys of that county. The Morin boys have been very enterprising workers in their club and from a small start of the Silver Mine corn two or three years ago raised a large crop last year. Some of it is on exhibit at Mr. Hill's office. He states that these boys have studied corn until they are first class judges of this grain.

While at Stillwater last week County Agent Hill secured from Prof. Sanborn mounted specimens of boll weevil, cottonwood weevil, Bermuda grass bill bug, bloodweed weevil, cocklebur weevil and potato stalk weevil. There is a family resemblance in the lot, but when examined together there can be no mistaking the particular variety. Mr. Hill has them on display in his office.

J. B. Hill has received the new charter for the High Hill demonstration club and others will be here shortly. The High Hill club consists of the following eighteen members: Everett Neely, president; Jewell Kerr, secretary; Bonnie Neely, treasurer; Carrie McMeans, Ruby McMeans, Beatrice Ginn, Clara Horn, Donnie Horn, Bertha Neely, Roy Kerr, Altha McCormick, Hazel Horn, Edna Nickell, John Leonard, Herman Leonard, Clinton Franks, Gervie Nickell, Nolan Trout.

Prof. C. E. Sanborn, state entomologist at the A. and M. college, is trying an interesting experiment to determine the vitality of the boll weevil. Cages containing 100 each have been placed in the ground at Antlers, Durant, Marietta and Stillwater. The bugs were picked up just as they were going into winter quarters and when brought out in the spring it will be noted how many survived the winter and how many died. It is hoped by this method to form some estimate of the percentage living through the winter.

Ben Boring was in Saturday to get a fine Bourbon turkey gobbler which he had shipped from a prize flock at Leedy, Oklahoma. He raised more than 100 last year and this year hopes to do even better.

A new brand of self-rising pancakes was recently tried in a California lumber camp. After the meal it was discovered that the spoon used in mixing the pancake flour had been taken from a can of T. N. T. and that about an ounce of the explosive had adhered to the spoon. The men experienced no perceptible ill effects, but laid off work that day in order to avoid any sudden knocks or jars.

MOTHER LOSES FIGHT TO EXTRADITE
"OTHER WOMAN" FLEEING WITH SON

Mrs. Mary Robbins, above, and Miss Frances MacLane and Cutler H. Robbins.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—(Special)—Mrs. Mary Robbins has lost out in her effort to have Frances MacLane extradited back to Chicago from Ogden, Utah, where Miss MacLane was arrested on a charge of kidnapping George B. Robbins III, son of the Robbins.

The mother, divorced wife of Cutler H. Robbins, former treasurer of the Frank G. Shuman company and son of a former vice president of Armour & Co., lost her fight to have the other woman extradited when Assistant State's Attorney James A. Scott, investigating the Robbins' divorce, issued December 23, 1920, discovered a clause in the decree which entitled the father to remove the boy from the state one month out of the twelve. He thereupon declined to issue the extradition papers.

Permitted to Visit Son. Although Mr. Robbins had been granted custody of the child, Mrs. Robbins was permitted to visit the boy here three times a week. The former husband left for California recently. On the next day the mother was told by the nurse, Miss Jennie Stengrin, that Miss MacLane had taken the boy away, acting, as she said, under instructions from Robbins.

Mrs. Robbins obtained a warrant for Miss MacLane on a charge of kidnapping. She was arrested, with the boy on a train at Ogden, Utah. After being held over night she was released through telegraphic instructions from Chicago.

The mother's attempt to have her former husband held in contempt of court, charging that he had violated the divorce decree in removing the lad, from the state, and that he was $300 in arrears in alimony payments, was equally fruitless.

Robbins' attorneys asked for a ruling. Mrs. Robbins' lawyers, however, changed their minds when the case was called.

LITTLE GIRL IS FIRST TO START
TOWN TO CHURCH

(By the Associated Press)

WALCOTT, Ia., Feb. 6.—Walcott is looking up in a religious way. This village, whose chief executive, Mayor Strubben, no less than three months ago boasted that it had never had a church within the limits of the community in the last 65 years now has a Sunday school.

According to Dr. Leroy Coffman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Davenport, Ia., the Sunday school was established as a result of the influence of a little girl who had attended vacation Bible school at his church. Dr. Coffman states:

"The mayor was opposed to its existence but the written permission of all other members of the school board of this city of Walcott in response to general sentiment in its favor, obtained the school building for the Sunday school and it is now an established fact."

Dr. A. Frank Houser, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church of Davenport recently made an inspection of this village and reports that: "Some weeks ago a Sunday school was started in Walcott, perhaps the first in its 65th year. There was no decided objection to the Sunday school being started by the young people and children of the village but in case a church was started the mayor threatened to close it."

"We looked into the educational conditions and found that the regular school only this year was advancing to an intermediate grade preparatory to a high school course, which some of the students take in Davenport, twelve miles away. The town is sixty-five years old and has never sent a person to college from its immediate village precincts. Several have taken to academic and normal courses at Cedar and Iowa Falls, but no one entered college. There have been three from the country or farm houses who attended Ames Agricultural college, but I could only learn of one that took the full course."

Dr. Houser also reported that almost the entire community that located here are known to have immigrated to this country from Holstein and the Danish Rhenish borders, about 1848. This village, during the world war was known as "Little Berlin."

ROADS STRIVE TO KEEP OPERATING

Management and Employees
Under Obligations To Public Says Hooper.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The only practicable, effective and just method that the government can set up for the adjustment of railroad labor controversies is adjudication by a competent tribunal, whose decisions shall be enforceable by suitable penalties, Ben W. Hooper, public member of the United States Railroad Labor Board told the Civic Federation in an address here recently.

This was added by Mr. Hooper to his other five propositions toward equitable settlement of railroad disputes. These were:

"That efficient and uninterrupted transportation is indispensable to the public welfare.

"That the carriers and their employees jointly owe such transportation to the public.

"That the Federal Government has the right, as a matter of contract, public policy and police power, and owes to the people the duty to insure such transportation.

"That the Government's duty and the people's rights are violated by permitting railroad labor controversies to be settled by economic warfare.

"That, if railway employees are deprived, for the promotion of the common good, of the legal right to strike, some other remedy of equal or superior efficacy must be provided."

"Speaking in general terms, only two plans have ever been devised for the settlement of railway labor controversies," continues Mr. Hooper. "These are: By economic war—the strike, by adjudication. I purposely omit mention of such expedients as mediation, voluntary arbitration, etc., in their varying forms. The difference between the strike and adjudication is difference between force and law.

"Just now the nations are endeavoring at Washington to curtail the ancient doctrine of the supremacy of might, and I believe that henceforth this spirit will likewise be potent in composing some of our domestic troubles.

"I am friendly to the aspirations of laboring men for the betterment of their condition and I am a firm believer in their right to organize and to function as organizations. I cannot, however, sympathize with the idea that the right of the railway employees to strike outweighs the right of men, women and children of this nation to be protected against the disastrous results of railway strikes. This simply means that some remedy other than the strike should be found for obtaining justice for the railway worker, without, at the same time, destroying the public.

Employees Want Justice.
"The question remains, could the railway employees get justice under such a system? Their suspicion of courts and tribunals may be based, to a limited extent, upon occasional acts of judicial oppression, but largely they rise from the incalculable literature that is continually fed to laboring men by demagogical aspirants for leadership, who sweepingly condemn all government agencies and officials, their motives and conduct, as well as the motives and conduct of all conservative labor leaders.

"If the Congress of the United States would confer upon the Railroad Labor Board the power to enforce its decisions, there is not a railroad in the United States that would not be brought into prompt compliance with the rulings of the Board.

"But the employees do not desire an enforceable law. They mistakenly apprehend that it would work a hardship on them. It would work no hardship on them or anybody else. It would stabilize railroad labor conditions, and benefit everybody concerned. It would be a blessing to every employee and to his wife and children."
